

Driving Refresher Courses

The driving refresher course or refresher training can be very useful if you:

-  .. passed your test some years ago but have never drive
-  .. have had a break from driving due to circumstances or health
-  .. have let your driving skills get slightly "rusty"
-  .. have maybe lost your confidence – perhaps after experiencing a ‘near- miss’.

We can quickly get you back on track and help you regain those skills and confidence required to drive safely. The length of the driving refresher course will be geared to your needs.

Sometimes all that is needed is a few refresher training lessons, rather than a full blown driving refresher course, with the peace of mind that the instructor can intervene if required.

Refresher driving lessons will suit you if

- You've passed your test but haven't driven much since (if at all)
- You're moving to a quieter location and it will mean you'll need to drive again
- You need to drive as part of your job
- You need to brush up your skills
- You lack confidence in a particular skill
- You intend to supervise your son or daughter whilst they're learning with an ADI and you need to know you're teaching correctly
- You want to get behind the wheel of a car again after a long break
- You need to drive again just to ferry the children around and do the "School Run"
- You were involved in an accident either as the driver or passenger
- You have lost someone close in a traffic accident and you can't face driving again, or find getting back behind the wheel a very anxious experience. We work closely with the Drive for Change charity in this regard www.driveforchange.co.uk.
- Your partner has got fed up with driving you around ...and you're getting nagged!

How many sessions do you think I'll need?

- That's up to you
- Most people choose a 2 hour session and then appraise their own performance and confidence, with professional input from us
- There's no pressure on you at any stage
- You decide if you want to take further lessons after your initial session

The Refresher Driving experience is planned for you by you.
